

The Lincoln County Private Property Protection Act

Summary

The Lincoln County, Nevada Private Property Protection Act is designed to ensure property owner rights as established under the 5th Amendment to the United States Constitution through the establishment of reasonable standards for takings and a method of relief for landowners whose rights have been taken by excess regulation. Key components of the bill include: a definition of regulatory takings, governmental compensations for property rights infringement, inverse condemnation procedures, regulatory rollback procedures, legal challenges and tax adjustments.

Whereas the citizens of Lincoln County have deep concerns about the protection of their private property in the event of the adoption of a Multiple Species Habitat Conservation Plan; and

Whereas signing of a Multiple Species Habitat Conservation Plan by the Lincoln County Commissioners automatically gives access to private property to Federal Agencies, their contractors, non-government organizations and potentially other private groups that aren't welcome on private property normally; and

Whereas it is our belief that signing of a Multiple Species Habitat Conservation Plan will violate or nullify the protections for Lincoln County Citizens of the Fifth Amendment of the Constitution; and

Whereas the County Commissioners are elected to protect our private property rights as the closest level of government to the CITIZENS, and should be the best means of defense from an overbearing federal or state government; and

Whereas signing of the Multiple Species Habitat Conservation Plan compromises the County Commission's ability to defend our private property rights when they become co-enforcers of the Endangered Species Act thereby allowing the following

Allows the inventory and mapping of rare and endangered species on private property.

Provides the new regulatory agency/ USFWS annual access to private property for the purpose of monitoring property uses and management.

Subjects the private property to increased regulatory enforcement

Increases property use and management restrictions

Increases property management and development costs.

Increases the risk of litigation under the civil suit provisions of the Endangered Species Act by environmental groups, and litigation by adjacent and nearby landowners

Possibly reduces property values

NOW THEREFORE BE IT RESOLVED It is the desire that the following Act be made into an ordinance to defend Private property rights, and be it further

RESOLVED It shall now be a requirement of Lincoln County Code that any federal agency, state agency, special interest group or their contractors or consultants, or any other person or persons wish to access any Lincoln County Private Citizen's property that the said federal agency, state agency, special interest group or their contractors or consultants, or any other person or persons must first gain written permission from the land owner, and be it further

RESOLVED that those federal agency, state agency, special interest group or their contractors or consultants, or any other person or persons wishing to gain access to private property are required to first obtain a permit from the Lincoln County Commissioners which contains the names, titles and organizations of every individual wanting access to the property along with the exact purpose of the visit, date and time of proposed entry and exit and exact location of visit, and be it further

RESOLVED that failure of any said federal agency, state agency, special interest group or their contractors or consultants or any other person or persons to obtain a permit with the county and a contract with the land owner will be prosecuted for trespassing and be it further

RESOLVED that said federal agency, state agency, special interest group or their contractors or consultants or any other person or persons shall obtain and sign a contract for access to private property with the property owner which will be permission in writing and recorded in the Lincoln County Recorder's office after a permit is issued, and be it further

RESOLVED that said federal agency, state agency, special interest group or their contractors or consultants, or any other person or persons, shall first post a $10,000 bond with the County Treasurer for the permit. And be it further

RESOLVED that said federal agency, state agency, special interest group or their contractors or consultants, or any other person or persons shall refrain from disclosure of any oral, written, or pictorial or any other mean of information gathering that took place while gaining access to private property, and if they do disclose any information or data in any form including but not limited to oral, written, pictorial or other means they shall be liable for $10,000 personally for each disclosure to each entity, agency or non-governmental organization and be it further

RESOLVED that if any federal agency, state agency, special interest group or their contractors or consultants, or any other person or persons disclosure triggers actions or events penalties, levies, fines or in any way causes harm or expense to the owner, it is their personal burden, not the landowner's to prove that such actions and events were not caused by federal or state agency, special interest group or their contractors or consultants or any other person or persons own actions. And be it further

RESOLVED that if any disclosure occurs said federal agency, state agency, special interest group or their contractors or consultants, or any other person or persons, shall agree to pay the land owner $10,000 for EACH instance of disclosure plus all court costs, attorney fees and interest at the rate of 18% per annum since the date of breach of the access contract. And

FINALLY IT IS RESOLVED by the undersigned CITIZENS that the Lincoln County Commissioners shall adopt as many measures as necessary and at their disposal to defend, protect and carry out their Constitutional duties to protect us and our Future Property as their Citizens from harm resulting from their signing Multiple Species Habitat Conservation Plan.
