The State of Nevada, Department of Health and Human Services, Division of Healthcare Financing and Policy ("Nevada Medicaid"), Rollin Kim Lee and David Mark Lee hereby agree as follows:

Phyllis B. Lee received Medicaid benefits from September 1, 2002 to July 11, 2009 totaling four hundred thirty-seven thousand four hundred two dollars and fifty-one cents ($437,402.51). Phyllis B. Lee passed away on July 11, 2009.

sons, David Mark Lee and Rollin Kim Lee, entitling David Mark Lee to a 75% interest in the property and Rollin Kim Lee to a 25% interest in the property. Phyllis B. Lee transferred all of her interest in the subject property to her sons for $10.00 consideration.

On November 11, 2002, Rollin Kim Lee applied for Medicaid benefits on behalf of his mother, Phyllis B. Lee. Rollin Kim Lee failed to report on Phyllis B. Lee's Medicaid application that Phyllis B. Nevada Revised Statute 422.29302(3) states that Medicaid may pursue any remedy available under Chapter 112 if a Medicaid recipient transfers real property for less than fair market value. Nevada Revised Statute 422.29304(1) also states that Nevada Medicaid shall recover from the person who signed the Medicaid application if that person failed to report any required information, refused to provide information regarding the transfer of assets, or concealed information regarding the transfer of assets on a Medicaid recipient's application.

In lieu of other remedies available to Nevada Medicaid under state law, Nevada Medicaid shall impose a lien in the amount of four hundred thirty-seven thousand four hundred two dollars and fifty-one cents ($437,402.51) against a 50% interest in the real property described above. Nevada Medicaid shall only recover the full amount of its claim, or, the value of 50% interest in the subject property, whichever amount is less. NRS 422.29302(7). Nevada Medicaid cannot recover from a recipient's estate if the recipient has a surviving spouse, disabled or blind child, or minor child. NRS 422.29302(4).
